Course Content

Sharing and Communicating Personal Information:
This introductory unit will allow students to revise basic greetings, as well as how to elicit and give personal information.

Personal identity and hobbies:
This unit of work explores the concept of identity and group membership based around hobbies. Students will learn how to communicate their hobbies and describe locations.

School life:
Students will compare and contrast daily routines and school life in Australia and Indonesia. They will be able to communicate details about their own lives with Indonesian peers.

You are what you eat:
The semester will end with a look at Indonesian food and a focus on instructional language.

Assessment

Personal Profile: Students will produce a personal profile of a famous person they met while travelling in Bali, as well as a profile for themselves.

A Day in the Life of...: Students will create a short video and letter describing their everyday routines and school life. This video will be shared with Indonesian peers.

Food Portfolio: Students will create a portfolio which includes a food diary, Indonesian recipes and a translation of their favourite recipe into Indonesian.
